Palo Colorado Plight Ignored By School Board

Those who came to last night's school board meeting expecting to find irate Palo Colorado parents present asking where the teacher was they had requested for the opening day of school Tuesday at Palo Colorado School, were disappointed. No parents were there. The situation was not even mentioned. A letter to Supt. Dr. Harris Taylor had been sent last week, signed by the parents of 20 Palo Canyon children, stating that they expected to enroll their children in the nearby one-room school and that they expected a teacher to be present.

In so doing they were rejecting the alternatives offered them by the school board, of enrolling their children at Captain Cooper School, 20 miles down the coast over a dangerous road, or at River School in Carmel.

The drawbacks of the Palo Colorado School had been pointed out: a faulty water system, difficulty in staffing, lack of space for expansion, etc.

The Palo Colorado School Association, headed by Norman Godbe, offered to con-

The Palo Colorado School Association invites the community to drive to Palo Colorado Sunday between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. and have a cup of coffee with them at the school. They will be pleased to show you their school and explain directly what they hope to achieve. They especially invite the members of the Board and the Administration.

struct a water system; to provide instructional help in rounding out that program offered by a teacher; to donate labor for repairs.

They pointed out that bussing the children would be costly, an estimated $4500; that bussing would be time consuming; many would not know whether their children had missed the

Kiwanis Donate Beach Buggy

Carmel was the recipient this morning of a six-wheel dune buggy, the gift of the Carmel Kiwanis Club.

Mayor Bernard Laiolo formally accepted the keys to the versatile "Terra Tiger," manufactured by the Allis Chalmers Company.

The dune buggy was tested on the beach last month, and the Kiwanis organization purchased the vehicle and donate it to the City as its contribution to the protection and enhancement of the Carmel beach for local citizens.

The squat, powerful little "bug" will be used by the Street Department during the day to pick up debris from the beach and at night by Carmel Police Department to assist in patrolling the sands to enforce laws. (See picture on Page 16)

Dr. Robert Newton Praised By The School Board

A resolution of appreciation for the seven year efforts of Dr. Robert Newton on the Carmel School Board was approved last night by the Carmel District School Board.

There was a discussion of the Vocational Guidance Survey of the Peninsula submitted by Supt. Dr. Harris Taylor.

Neil Jensen, vice-principal and former counselor at the high school expressed the need for personalized service; need for courses of an exploratory nature of the employment opportunities that exist; better coordination of counselors between schools; expansion of counseling for non-academic students.

It was reported that total enrollment was 150 greater this year. This opened the subject of space at the high school and Middle School. A full year will have to be spent in planning for the best solution to educational and housing needs, Dr. Taylor pointed out.

Council Takes Surprise Action: Votes For Joint Library Plan

By GUNNAR NORBERG

Listening to statements made, questions asked, answers given, and points of view expressed, an impartial listener would have been likely to reach the tentative conclusion that the Carmel City Council would turn down the proposal to join in a county-wide effort to establish a new entity—the Monterey Bay Area Cooperative Library System (or MBAC, for short).

City Council Hears Hippies, Non-Hippies

Before proceeding with the evening's announced agenda—which entirely concerned library matters—the City Council gave a limited hearing to views of individuals in the large and variously attired audience in the council chamber. The subject of the views concerned the restrictions and limitations placed upon public use of Devendorf Park following passage of the city's new 'good conduct' ordinance.

Unlike the situation which prevailed in city hall last week, there was substantial applause for diametrically opposed views concerning the alleged responsibility, or lack of it by the city in providing a place, such as Devendorf Park, where people generally described as "hippies" could freely gather.

Rogers Lorenz, who described himself as 'retired' and a resident of the Carmel Valley, as well as a former Carmelite, said he wished to see long-haired, colorfully attired youth "blended into the Carmel mystique."

Lt. Col. Earl House, who said he owns property in Carmel and operates a business here, wondered "just what we are doing here" in listening to 'hippie' elements in the audience. He said he believed it was "important to protect our homes and our businesses" from what he described as "undesirable people".

Much of the talk seemed to suggest that the fundamental difficulty which had produced what appeared to be alienation from, or rejection of, the usually accepted adult norms both in habit and in dress, was some flaw or fault in family feeling or understanding.

—GUNNAR NORBERG

But instead, the proposal was approved, and approved unanimously, after one modifying amendment was added to the motion upon which the council vote was taken.

The motion to approve was made by Councilman Ken Brown and seconded by Councilman Eben Whittlesey. At this point, Councilman Herbert Blanks, whose questions and comments had suggested that he had serious reservations about the proposal, said he had been persuaded during the lengthy discussion that the program should be tried rather than summarily dismissed because, as he put it, "we can get out of" the joint powers agreement and "the services to be performed would be subject to review".

Councilman Frank Falge said he had been, like Blanks, originally opposed, but that he would agree to a trial period for the joint county-wide library plan. Mayor Barney Laiolo, who had appeared to be most firmly opposed, said he would consider a "yes" vote if a limited amendment were added.

The limiting amendment which was adopted stated that the City Council would review its initial approval of the library agreement next March, which would be in time to withdraw from the provisions of the agreement according to its specified deadline date for such action, of April 1st.

The essential elements of the opposition which became evident in last night's Council meeting concerned the proposed involvement of Carmel in a county-wide library program which would use state funds directly and federal funds indirectly.

BOO!

If black cats and ladders and broken mirrors give you the jumping willies, watch it, Friday the 13th is coming up.

We're always reminded, when the superstitious day comes, around, of the old Scottish prayer to the effect: "From ghoules and ghosties and long leggit beasties and things that go bump in the night, good Lord deliver us!"

With all the things that are going bump in the nights and days around the world, Friday the 13th really is rather an anticlimax. But we just thought we'd warn you. And by the way; don't throw away your talisman on the 14th. You can use it again in December.

Paintings on Exhibit

A group of ten paintings which Helen B. Dooley has been commissioned to do for the University of Pacific at Stockton will be on exhibit at the Dooley Gallery until September 24.

Mrs. Dooley returned recently from teaching a summer session there. She has resigned to devote herself to painting.

Carmel Pharmacy Changes Hands

One of Carmel's familiar landmarks — the Carmel Pharmacy — has a new set of owners, although you would never know it if you were familiar with the previous ownership.

Mrs. Virginia Harris Burk and Ralph C. Castagna have sold the Carmel Drug Store to a pair of young Central Californians, Dave Banks of Stockton and Frank Quatraro of Fresno.

However, the Carmelites are not precisely absent from the store, at least temporarily. Both Mrs. Burk and Castagna are remaining on for a while until the new owners get their bearings.

Mrs. Burk originally came to California as a dewey-eyed Tennessean, clutching a round-trip train ticket in her hand.

In San Francisco, she met the then owners of the Palace Drug Company who owned the present pharmacy.

A registered pharmacist, she went to work for Palace for several months, then bought the store. Later, Castagna joined her in partnership and in 1946, the Burks moved to Arizona for Mr. Burk's health. Since that time, her association with the store has been on a somewhat lesser scale, although she has retained her partnership until the sale.

What year did she buy the store?

"Never mind. That's my secret," she says, and means it. "Some of the older residents of Carmel may remember, but I know they won't tell."

Both Banks and Quatrara are registered pharmacists and classmates at the University of the Pacific. They have purchased the store because they like the character of Carmel and the area.

They declare that they will give to Carmel the same high quality drugs and outstanding service that Mrs. Burk and Ralph Castagna offered during their tenure.

"And I find I'm working harder just helping out around here than I ever did when I was active," Mrs. Burk says as she reaches to the top shelf for an item for a customer.

New WHET Play

Stephen Welles, director of the Welles' Humanist Educational Theatre, Forest Theatre-in-the-Ground, announces open readings for the group's fourth play, Harold Pinter's "The Caretaker."

Cast requirements call for two men in their late twenties and one older man in his middle fifties. The action takes place in a single room and revolves around the strange relationships between these three individuals.

A call to the theatre by interested local actors will result in the opportunity to read for the parts. Schedule now calls for a four-week rehearsal period beginning later this month and opening night set for Nov. 1, with the play to run on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings for a month.

Welles also announced that a combination of personal and financial exigencies has forced the closing of the current WHET production "Streetcar Named Desire."

Wedding Bells

Sam Farr Marries Sharon Baldwin

Many Carmelites attended the wedding of Samuel Farr, son of former State Senator Fred Farr who is here from Washington, D.C., to Sharon Alexa Baldwin of Malibu. Sammy's sister, Francesca, was there from Boston.

Sharon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cary Albert Baldwin of Malibu.

A large reception at the Bel-Air Hotel followed the ceremony at All Saints' Episcopal Church in Beverly Hills.

Sammy's cousin, Janet Niven, was maid of honor and another cousin, Mrs. Nicholas Niven of Los Angeles was among the bride's attendants.

Best man was Mr. Nicholas Niven, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Niven of Los Angeles, also have a home in Carmel. Mrs. Niven is the sister of the late Janet Farr, the groom's mother.

Ushers were Steve Gann, Nat Laky and Chris Nielsen of Carmel, two other cousins, Sharon Farr Jr. and Gavin Farr of Washington, D. C. and Bradley Baldwin, the bride's brother.

Carmelites attending the wedding were Sammy's aunt, Mrs. George Dunbaugh, Mrs. Richard Lofton, her daughter, Melissa, and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Faridany; Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. "Skip" Lloyd; the Gerald Barrons; Ginger Laky and Bill Hicks.

Many other relatives from the East were present.

Following the reception, the couple flew to Miami, Florida and from there to Columbia where Sammy served with the Peace Corps.

They will live in Los Gatos while Sam continues his studies at Stanford University Law School.

Charming Garden Wedding in Highlands

Alison Creighton Miller, daughter of Mrs. Valentine Miller of Carmel Highlands, became the bride of Charles Stephen Jaeger of Millbrae in an Aug. 24 ceremony in the garden of the Arthur Eikenberrys' home in Carmel Highlands.

Rev. Karel Vit of the Unitarian Church of the Monterey Peninsula read selections from Gibrans' "The Prophet," Shakespeare, and St. Augustine at the 3 p.m. double ring service.

Alastair W. R. Miller of Santa Barbara escorted his daughter to the bower of greenery and flowers which served as an altar. Recordings of Italian Renaissance music heralded the ceremony.

Alison's attendants were her sister, Janie, who was maid of honor; her cousins, Margaret (Honey) and Molly Williams, and Tasha Donner, all of Carmel Highlands. The two small flower girls were Margaret (Midge) Chaffey of Los Angeles and Megan Criley of Carmel Meadows, also cousins of the bride.

The bride's gown was of imported Swiss cotton voile designed in Renaissance style and embroidered with small bright colored flowers. She carried a round bouquet of brilliant multicolored garden flowers and wore a wreath of the same flowers in her long dark hair.

The short page boy shifts worn by the four bridesmaids were each a separate color — peony pink, fuchsia, lime green and purple. The flower girls' frocks were of rosebud printed polished cotton. All the attendants carried bouquets identical to the bride's.

David Jaeger of Seattle was his brother's best man. Ushers included the bride's two brothers, Nicholas and Andrew Miller, who also assisted in guiding the guests through the garden.

A champagne reception and buffet followed the ceremony.

Mrs. Charles A. Jaeger of Millbrae was here for her son's wedding, as was his grandmother, Mrs. David Bartholi of Fresno. Among other out of town guests was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Alec Miller of Santa Barbara, a former Monterey Peninsula resident.

Alison, who is also the granddaughter of the late Susan (Mrs. Valentine Mott) Porter of Big Sur, was graduated in 1962 from Carmel High School and received her BA in anthropology from UC Berkeley in June.

The son of the late Mr. Jaeger of Millbrae, Steve is a 1963 graduate of UC Berkeley. He studied in Vienna and Germany and is completing his dissertation for a doctorate in German literature from UC. He has been teaching at the Berkeley campus.

The newlyweds will live in Chicago after a wedding trip in the Pacific Northwest and Canadian Rockies. Steve will be an assistant professor in the German department of the University of Chicago.

Reverend Arthur Cunningham

Returns With Bride To Carmel

The bride is the former Miss Mary Elizabeth Taylor, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry Taylor of Milwaukee. She is a life member of the Milwaukee Service Club and made her debut at the Charity ball in Milwaukee in 1964.

She attended Pine Manor Junior College and graduated from Northwestern University.

"Father Art," as he is affectionately known in Carmel where he is assistant in charge of Youth Education activities at All Saints' Episcopal Church, is a graduate of the College of Emporia, Kansas, and Seabury Western Theological seminary.

Mimi Farina Weds Mylan Melvin

Well-known folk-singer Mimi Baez Farina of Carmel Valley and Mylan Melvin, disc jockey and former advertising director of radio station KSAN, were married Saturday morning. The wedding took place at Big Sur Hot Springs where the Esalen Institute constructed a special arch on the cliff overlooking the sparkling Pacific.

Joan Baez sang for the ceremony, following which a champagne brunch was served guests who later attended the Folk Festival in the afternoon.

Mrs. Bryce (Pauline Baez) Marden and Jeanne Triolo were her other attendants.

Dr. and Mrs. Albert Baez of Carmel Valley were present. Dr. Baez, a physicist, has just returned from a summer of teaching at Harvard.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCulloch Jr. before their marriage.

Mill Valley Wedding

The bridal party and guests were piped out of the Mill Valley Community Church by Scottish bagpiper Peter Karr of Berkeley following the recent wedding of Suzanne Caroline Rosse of Berkeley to Charles Mailand McCulloch Jr. of Berkeley whose parents live in Carmel.

Her maid of honor was her sister, Sara, and her attendants included Mary and Holly McCulloch, sisters of the groom.

Best man was Theodore H. Pope, a cousin of the groom, and ushers included Eric Rosse, a brother of the bride.

The reception was at the bride's parents' home in Mill Valley.

A graduate of Occidental College where she met her husband, the bride has been teaching in the Oakland School District.

Charles is a San Francisco landscape architect. He is a graduate of UC at Berkeley after attending Webb School in Claremont and Occidental. They will live in Berkeley.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Wine Tasting Buffets"

Young couples making their way up in today's world, both professionally and socially, are turning to a wine tasting buffet as an alternate to the usual, and more expensive, cocktail-and-dinner party. It's new and fun, the price is right and it has glamour.

Plans for a buffet supper, preceded by a wine tasting, are wonderfully flexible. The simplest way is to merge the two parts of the evening into one—a wine tasting with several go-along dishes to actually create the meal. The wines are the star of the evening. For a small tasting, select three wines. If these are white, choose good California ones; Sauterne, Riesling and Dry Semillon. Another variation is to offer three different types such as a California Chablis; a pink wine like a Rose and a dry red one named Pinot Noir. The whites and Roses are well chilled, the reds at cool room temperature.

Professional wine tasters would have no other food than one-inch cubes of French bread to nibble between tastes. Less serious tasters enjoy cheese and other foods along with the wine. This shows the affinity between foods and wines. We suggest a wine-flavored pate, delicate yet filling and sophisticated. It is baked like a meat loaf, then encased in pastry made from a mix and baked again.

In addition to the Pate in Pastry, also serve a chafing dish of blue cheese fondue; shrimps or prawns with a dipping sauce; deviled eggs, with anchovies; marinated artichoke hearts; assorted relishes with a tomato sauce for dunking.

Pate in Pastry

Two-thirds cup minced onion; 3 T. butter; 2/3 cup dry Sauterne; 1 lb., each, ground veal and pork; 3 eggs, beaten slightly; 2 1/2 t. salt; 1/4 t., each, pepper and thyme; dash of cayenne; 3 sticks pastry mix.

Saute onion in butter until transparent but not brown. Add wine and simmer until liquid is reduced to 1/3 cup. Cool slightly. Combine next six items. Add onion-wine mixture and beat with fork until fluffy. Turn into loaf pan and bake in moderate 350 F. oven 1 hour and 15 minutes. Cover pan loosely with foil after 30 minutes. Cool meat in pan, then turn out and scrape off jellied juices.

Prepare pastry as package directs. Roll out 3/4 of pastry and invert baked pate loaf. Fit pastry over bottom, sides and ends. Divide remaining pastry in half, roll each piece of thin sheet to cover top of loaf. Cover top with both sheets and cut a half-inch hole in center to allow steam to escape. Brush lightly with beaten egg white and bake in 425 F. oven for 45 minutes until pastry is nicely browned. Cool before cutting.

You can make small cut-outs with pastry trimmings for decorations. Serves 10.

Blue Cheese Fondue

One cup dry white dinner wine; 1 1/2 cups grated Swiss cheese; 1/2 cup crumbled blue cheese; 2 T. flour; 1/4 t. salt; 2 T., each, chopped green onion and fresh parsley; French bread.

Heat wine to simmering in heavy saucepan. Mix cheeses with flour and salt. Add to wine, stirring until cheese melts and mixture is thick and smooth. Add green onion and parsley. Serve right away with chunks of French bread for dipping into fondue which is kept warm in chafing dish over hot water. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Sept. 12, 1968

The Carmel Pine-Cone Cymbal-A

Saucy Shrimps

One-fourth cup Rose or red table wine; 1/4 cup oil; 1 T. wine vinegar; 1 t. instant minced onion; dash of garlic powder; 1/4 t. dried dill; 1/2 t. seasoned salt; quick shake of Tabasco; 2 small packages frozen cooked shrimp; 1/3 cup ketchup or cocktail sauce.

Combine everything excepting ketchup and blend. Marinate the defrosted shrimp several hours. When ready to serve, stir in ketchup. Serve in a bowl surrounded with small melba toast rounds and plastic cocktail picks. Makes 2 cups sauce.

French fruits, such as pineapple fingers, apple crescents unpeeled, slices of peeled pears; pieces of melon and fresh berries in season make a refreshing finale.

An ad in the Pine Cone has a 7-times-better chance to be read than an ad in a daily newspaper.

Census Quiz

Families in the Carmel area will be asked about immunizations against smallpox, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, measles and mumps by Census Bureau interviewers during the week of Sept. 16.

The interviewers will inquire about immunization of adults against smallpox and polio and the immunization of children against all the above diseases.

The survey will cover a scientifically selected sample of households throughout the U. S., and the identity of the households is confidential.

Constitution of U.S. Is 181 Years Old Sept. 17

(Sept. 17 is the 181st anniversary of the signing of the Constitution of the United States. This commemorative article was specially written for the Pine Cone by C. Austin De Camp of Carmel).

By C. A. De Camp

Tuesday, Sept. 17th will be the 181st anniversary of what many students of world history consider the inauguration of the greatest experiment in the government of mankind of all time.

There is ample evidence that the Father of this Republic, George Washington, so considered it.

Likewise, that he and most of the delegates to the Convention that framed our Constitution, consciously or subconsciously, thought of it as the ideological political framework within which the spiritual pronouncements of The Declaration could find tangible and practicable expression politically.

It was indeed, at the time regarded, together with its most illustrious sponsor, George Washington, with the awe and veneration of its dedicated builders (55 delegates), as that instrument that could give promise to a future long-enduring (as against transitory) nation of free men.

It could very well be thought of as the body whose soul was The Declaration.

We think such a concept wholly apt, since it is the immortal soul that gives direction to the body. Without direction, body loses identity. Without identity, body becomes meaningless, meaningless, the equivalent of death, or of death itself.

To those who treasure a long life for our Republic, the linking of the soul with the body on Sept. 17, 1787, proved an occasion due as much—possibly more—veneration than that of The Declaration on a Fourth of July of about a decade earlier.

For on that day, the 13

Olympic Trials To Pebble

Olympic dressage trials will be held Sept. 14 and 15 at the Pebble Beach Equestrian Center. Richard Collins, equestrian director at Pebble Beach, said the Olympic Equestrian Committee selection trials are open to all riders.

Those selected by the committee will be eligible to compete in the Olympics in Mexico City.

Commandante Jean Saint-Fort Paillard of Paris will be at Pebble Beach following dressage trials in Gladstone, N.J. to judge the event, according to Collins.

An early entry is Mrs. Franklin Downton of Woodside, who was a gold medal winner last year in the Pan-American Games in Canada.

Spectators may attend the event Sept. 15 at no charge, Collins said.

Riders wishing to enter the dressage trials may contact Collins at the Pebble Beach Equestrian Center, P.O. Box 273, Pebble Beach or telephone 624-2756.

Meet Tricia And Julia Nixon

Tricia and Julia Nixon will be on the Peninsula, Wednesday, September 18, from 10 until 12 noon. Cokes and coffee will be served at the Mark Thomas Inn.

former Colonies, then 13 separate states, for the first time became one nation—a nation having the Constitution as the indissoluble tie that gave us the structure of a government of freedom that generated a continent-wide United States of America, second to no other government or nation in the history of the world.

Unaccountably (so it seems to this writer) as the greatest of paradoxes, the 17th of September has never been made a National Holiday, and that in general, it has attained so little significance and/or recognition of this perhaps, most auspicious day in our history.

Also, that in the meantime, we do ourselves the honour of paying on that day the deserved homage of flying the American flag over our respective premises, as well as breathing a fervent prayer of gratitude for the blessings sought for us in the enabling Preamble of this Constitution on which our Nation was founded—quote: "We the people . . . (to) secure the blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

Del Monte Adds to Sales Staff

Two new sales representatives have been added to the staff of the real estate division of Del Monte Properties Company.

They are Mrs. William (Maggie) Arnold of Jack's Peak and Richard A. Darragh of Carmel Valley, according to E. H. Bouhaben, vice president of real estate.

Both will be at the main real estate office in Monterey, 498 Calle Principal.

Mrs. Arnold, wife of a retired Navy commander and former instructor at the Naval Postgraduate School, will specialize in commercial and land development.

She attended the University of Indiana and is currently the president of the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art.

Darragh will represent general real estate sales for Del Monte Properties. He is married and the father of four children. He holds a BS degree from Florida Southern College, and is a member of the Carmel Mission School Board.

Dental, Medical Courses Still Open at MPC

Openings are still available in daytime dental and medical assisting classes at Monterey Peninsula College, and late registration will be permitted through Friday, Sept. 13, according to Dr. Jack Bessire, MPC dean of student personnel.

Fully accredited one-year programs leading to local employment in dentists' and physicians' private offices, group practices, clinics and insurance companies are offered in both areas, Dr. Bessire said. He quoted Miss Ellen Hanson, dental assisting instructor, as saying "There's a crying need for trained people."

Recent statistics showed that the scores of 22 MPC dental assisting students who took certification examinations last June exceeded the national average.

Persons interest in learning more about the programs may call Miss Hanson at 375-9821, Ext. 385, or Mrs. Margaret Horsburgh, medical assisting instructor, at 375-9821, Ext. 310.

New Teachers For Middle School

Six new teachers for Middle School were hired at the last Carmel School Board meeting: Mrs. Nancy Balmer from Cary, Illinois will teach English and Reading; Mrs. Donna Sue Haun from Kansas City, Missouri will teach science; and Howard L. Jansen, recently graduated from Chico State College, will teach Science and Physical Education.

Miss Rita Rudolph of Bowie, Arizona will teach Mathematics and Social Science; Miss Kathleen Toelkes who taught for the last two years in Venezuela will teach English; and Mrs. Gail Rossiter who taught last year in Salinas will divide her time teaching French between the High School and Middle School.

The resignation of Mrs. Sarah M. Russell from Woods School was accepted, due to her husband's military reassignment.

Bus Routes

Bus route schedules were approved and copies will be sent parents or given newly registered pupils. When the signal at Highway 1 and Rio Road is finally placed, bus transportation will cease for children in the Mission Fields district.

About 250 taking electives at Middle School require an extra bus run, it was noted by Mr. Chapple of Middle School.

Special Placement Class

A request by the superintendent for a special placement class at River School to take the place of the one taught by Nancy Bottaro at Palo Colorado School, recently closed, died without a motion.

Mrs. Hugh Bayless explained to the board that the group of mothers interested had been trying to secure a place for the school at Sunset, in case the class would be discontinued by the board.

Fall is Critical For Deer on Roads

Motorists were cautioned by the Department of Fish and Game today that this month and next month are the critical periods to watch for deer on California's highways.

September and October accounted for nearly one-fourth of all road kills of deer last year because of migrations from summer ranges to winter ranges, the DFG reports.

The DFG, in a cooperative study with the Division of Highways and some cooperating counties, tallied 8,517 carcasses of road-killed deer in the state last year.

California's highways are well posted with "Deer Area" and "Deer Crossing" signs, and motorists should reduce their speeds and drive carefully in such areas. Extra care is required at night in posted areas. Free-ways and other high-speed highways are especially dangerous in deer areas because of the combination of wide roadway and the high speed of vehicles.

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

We have a copy of Lawrence Clark Powell's new book entitled Fortune and Friendship. To really enjoy the book you must needs be one of his friends because he mentions others of them with reckless abandon and the uninitiated reader is left in the backwash of ignorance, and little caring, if the truth be known.

Our changing sex mores are ever interesting to certain classes of the populace and among these are the writers. Sex is a great subject for books, whether fiction or nonfiction, and an almost overwhelming impetus toward big royalties. Comes now Vance Packard with his new The Sexual Wilderness, a book which should be of great value to parents of college students and deans of the colleges. He discusses the changes in male and female relationships in the young and not so young. Reviewers say that what Packard calls an upheaval in sexual relationships is really an acceleration in the slackening of sexual restraints. True or not, this book will be talked about for the next few months. We have it in the McNaughton collection.

The next book should make you a little sick. It is The Case Against Congress by Drew Pearson. As no doubt you know, the author has been a newspaperman for over fifty years. Many of his writings have made some men squirm and other men scream but he is still turning out books and newspaper pieces on schedule. In this book he names names and tells conditions as he sees them, and if he is lying he should be arrested for defamation of character, but so far as is known to this librarian Mr. Pearson is free and not out on bail. The thing that is disturbing is

Mathew Little

THERE IS A BRIGHT new business personality in the Ocean Ave. Realty and Carmel Insurance Agency office. He is Robert Little's son Mathew, working with his father as a licensed insurance agent, and vice-president of the company. Matt is a graduate of Sunset School and Carmel High School (1964). It is certainly nice to see him back in Carmel as a business man, graduated from Golden Gate College with a bachelor's degree in business administration with a major in insurance. He has a lovely wife, Joan Marie and a one year old daughter, Lisa Renee. What a contrast Matt is to the young pot-smoking, unwashed mal-thinkers we so frequently associate our younger generation with these days. Here is proof that there are young men assuming the role of responsibility for our country's future.

Peninsula Czechs Form To Fight USSR Occupation

Czech and Slovaks living on the Monterey Peninsula have organized under the name "Friends of Free Czechoslovakia" with the purpose of "morally helping our countrymen in their spontaneous resistance against the Soviet occupation and also aiding the political refugees."

Until the group has named its officers and established a permanent meeting place, it can be reached through Post Office Box 3372, Carmel 93921, or by phoning 375-1739 or 624-3768.

Recently a cabled message from the Czech Underground was received on the West Coast: "Czechoslovak countrymen in America, do not stop working for us. We will need each one of you," leaders of the Peninsula group reported.

Under the Russian occupation, it pointed out, it will become increasingly difficult for the Czechoslovak people at home to inform the democratic world freely of what is going on.

According to recent information from Central European sources, there are several thousand Czech and Slovak men with their wives and children cut off from their country and will need material help, the local committee stated.

Czechoslovakia was founded in 1918 as a result of the principle of self-determination proclaimed by President Woodrow Wilson. This right of self-determination was twice violated, once in 1939 by the Nazis and in recent days by troops of the Soviet Union and her satellite countries.

The Soviet Union could not better illustrate to the whole world her imperialistic and colonial policy; it not only occupied a foreign country but invaded a country with which it had a treaty of friendship and alliance "for times eternal."

that if these things he talks about are true, what are we doing about them!

James Gould Cozzens has a new novel called Morning Noon and Night and if it seems to you that there should be a comma after the word morning, it seems so to me also. It is the story of a man in his sixties, who remembers his life and in doing so he tries to give the whole thing meaning and purpose. In telling of all his friends, his environment, his family, his emotions and what made him do the things he did, the reader comes to have a full picture of the man himself.

The editors of United Press International and the Cowles Publishing Company have brought out a book on the tragic death of Senator Robert Kennedy. The title of the book is Assassination. The book is full of photographs and much of the text is from television tapes. It is a violent book, traumatic and shocking. It will bring again those terrible days which followed the three assassinations which have left scars on all of us, on our hearts, our minds, and our history.

MPC Open To CHS Students

Most Monterey Peninsula College courses are now open to "advanced placement" students — high school juniors and seniors who have obtained approval from their counselors to take such courses for high school or college credit, according to MPC Dean of Student Personnel Jack Bessire.

The high school student whose grades and performance indicate his ability to take one or more additional courses at MPC will have a wide choice of both academic and occupational classes during the fall semester opening Sept. 11.

Many beginning occupational classes have been timed for the evening to make it easier for advanced placement students to avail themselves of them. Among the areas covered are aviation, economics, electronics, business, data processing, engineering, ornamental horticulture and photography.

Offered during the day will be business (including special studies in hotel-motel operation and retailing), economics, electronics, engineering and police science.

Data processing will also be offered by the college at Carmel high school.

WAC Weinfield To First Lieutenant

Roselle Weinfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Weinfield, 101 Carmel Knolls, Carmel, has been promoted to WAC 1st. Lieut. while assigned to the Army Community Service at Ft. Devens, Mass.

Lt. Weinfield entered the Women's Army Corps in August 1967. She is a 1961 graduate of Monterey High School and graduated in 1963 from Monterey Peninsula College. She also received a bachelor of arts degree in 1966 from Fresno State College.

Movie Review

Petulia. Richard Lester has directed an extremely interesting romance which blossoms in this fragmented world in which we live. It was superbly photographed in San Francisco.

The Green Berets. John Wayne, David Janssen and Jim Hutton star in this production of the best seller about the United States armed forces elite fighting men.

The Bride Wore Black. Francois Truffaut has studied with love the films and techniques of Alfred Hitchcock. Now he has made a picture in the manner of the master. This is based on a book by William Irish. Jeanne Moreau is cast as the relentless murderess bent on revenge, while also in the cast are Claude Rich, Jean-Claude Brialy, and Michel Bouquet.

The Pink Jungle. James Garner stars in according to Variety "... a fast-moving collage of politics, intrigue and romance in the steamy jungles of a mythical South American country." It is also a satire, eventually, of itself, and co-stars Eva Renzi, George Kennedy, Nigel Green and Michael Ansara. Garner again portrays a photographer, as he did in his last, "How Sweet It Is." One can depend on the fact that "Pink Jungle" is a step upward.

We Still Kill the Old Way. This is a drama of the Mafia in contemporary Sicily. It is in color with Irene Pappas, Gian Maria Volonte and Gabriele Ferzetti heading the cast. Its story deals with an intellectual who confronts the Mafia after his close friend has been murdered. Elio Petri directed.

The Hell With Heroes. Rod Taylor stars with Claudia Cardinale in a black market story set after World War II. Director Joseph Sargent and producer Stanley Chase are both, television veterans. Taylor and Peter Deuel are cast as a pair of former pilots endeavoring to operate an air freight business in Africa. Harry Guardino is also in the cast.

Gone with the Wind: The classic American motion picture. Set in the South during and after the Civil War the picture stars Clark Gable, Vivian Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia deHavilland.

Camelot: A splendid film version of the musical based on Arthurian legend which blends fantasy and touching realism. Outstanding performances.

For Love of Ivy: A warm and well-done romantic comedy about an affair between Sidney Poitier and Abbey Lincoln.

A Man and a Woman: An incredibly beautiful film by Claude LeLouch, this is a simple, universal love story about a young widow and widower portrayed by the beautiful Anouk Aimee and Jean-Louis Trintignant. Received the Best Foreign Picture Academy Award.

Salt & Pepper: Sammy Davis Jr. and Peter Lawford are starred in this comedy based on the adventures of two characters, Charles Salt and Christopher Pepper who runs a night club in the Soho district of London. When they send home a girl they believe to be intoxicated and the next morning she is found dead, they are involved with Scotland Yard. From then on matters take off.

Folk Festival At Big Sur Draws Thousands

It was hard to believe this past weekend that all the many thousands of people contained in the thousands of cars lining the highway on either side of Esalen Institute below Big Sur could be crammed into the space on the ocean promontory below the highway.

Joan Baez opened and closed the Festival. She immediately established an intimate rapport with her thousands of listeners who sat in clusters on the grass, families or friends, Carmel establishment or assorted hippies, young, old, black, white, always colorfully clad and happy.

Arlo Guthrie, the Charles River Valley Boys, Mimi Fariña, and Mama Cass Elliot and others carried on, but a high point was reached with the singing of Judy Collins who closed the first half of the afternoon. One of her most appealing songs was "I Watched the Paris Sun Set in My Father's Eyes Again."

'Come Blow Your Horn' Great Fun At Studio

The laughter of packed audiences at the Studio Theater last weekend filled in the generation gap in "Come Blow Your Horn," one of the Neil Simon hits. Sam Karas and Anita Tonn as Mr. and Mrs. Baker stole the show with their wondrously comical charac-

der his brother's tutelage. Virginia Mitchell looked the part of the beautiful "nice girl" whom Glaser was so reluctant to marry, but her voice lacked the inner confidence she needed to get her man. A terrific figure was the main asset of the penthouse terizations of the devoted Jewish father and mother who cannot understand the desire for independence on the part of their two sons. Every vocal inflection, every facial expression was perfect, and beautifully unhurried so that the audience had time to respond without missing the next line.

Sam Karas as the successful businessman is so solid and real in his desire to pass on the business to his sons. Mrs. Tonn reaches a high point when she attempts to cope with telephone messages meant for her son.

James Glaser, as their playboy son, who aids and abets his young brother's escape from the parental roof by offering to share his smartly furnished New York apartment, does a beautiful job with his debut assignment.

George Gray III, while he tends to overact, was believable as the nineteen year old son, who learns fast un-girl, Peggy Evans, who alternately amuses the playboy hero and educates his younger brother, with a side glance at "Dad".

Great direction by Gary Eldridge contributed to the fun. A most attractive set, expertly lighted, was provided by Bob Evans, Jr. with the help of Susan Trapkus, Walter Rousseau, and Bettie DeWitt. Judy Evans was responsible for costumes.

Kauai, Maui, Hawaii Are Scenic, Fun Islands

One of the great thrills of a visit to Hawaii is an inter-island cruise to the main islands of the group.

Travel-wise individuals have learned that getting away from it all on the lesser known of the Hawaiian Islands is a most rewarding experience, and visits to Kauai, Maui, and Hawaii are now almost invariably included in tour plans.

Kauai is known as the "Garden Isle," lush, verdant and with an unhurried atmosphere completely Polynesian. Many residents of Kauai still tend taro patches and fish with hand-thrown nets just as their ancestors did.

The pace of life is relaxed, probably more relaxed than any other of the Hawaiian Islands, and the natural beauty endless.

On Kauai is the Grand Canyon of Hawaii, the Waimea Canyon with its monumental rock walls displaying strikingly variegated layers of volcanic stone. Also on Kauai is Waimea Bay, where Captain Cook first landed in 1778.

Maui was once the capital of the Sandwich Islands in the days before Kamaheha made Honolulu the capital of his kingdom. Lahaina is a port rich in the history of the 19th century, and while now a sleepy town with a colorful past, Lahaina is restoring its early buildings.

Maui is called the "Valley Isle" for the valley that lies between two imposing volcanic mountains. The southern peak Haleakala, "House of the Sun," rises over 10,000 feet and is the world's largest dormant volcano. Its vast crater has an eerie, moonlike quality and has been used for the training of astronauts.

Maui is an uncrowded island made for fun, with superb beaches, secluded inland fresh water pools and unparalleled scenic beauty. It is easy to see why the "Valley Isle" was the favorite playground of the old Hawaiian royalty.

Perhaps the most varied vistas of all are to be found on Hawaii, or the "Big Island." Rocky deserts, mountain meadows, sandy beaches, the nation's largest singly-owned cattle ranch and matchless active volcanoes all contribute to make one of the most fascinating spots on earth.

Hilo, the port of call, is in the heart of orchid growing country and from there it is but a short drive to immense and eerie fern forests and on to Volcano National Park and the Kilauea Crater.

While seldom destructive, Kilauea's eruptions have created awesome spectacles of nature.

On the Kona Coast, tranquil villages retain a quiet atmosphere with quaint New England-style buildings that hark back to the missionary era.

Now nobody's knocking Oahu. There's lots to see, and even more to do. Plus shopping opportunities unsurpassed.

But out of the beaten track are beauties and wonders never imagined, and to sail the islands is the greatest way to see Hawaii.

Kiwanis Hears General Philips

The Carmel Kiwanis last week heard Maj. Gen. James H. Philips (USA ret) recount the incident that has come to be one of the major accidents of World War II—the failure of the Germans to destroy the Remagen Bridge across the Rhine River.

The bridge had been mined and completely prepared for destruction, but the American armies reached the bridge before the enemy could blow it, and the Rhine was crossed by an invader for the first time since Napoleon.

For his action at the Remagen Bridge, Gen. Philips was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross from General George S. Patton.

The Kiwanis Club meets each Thursday at the Pine Inn, and welcomes visitors.

Circle Dark for Face-Lift

The Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula has shut down the Circle Theatre for a complete face lifting, and the showhouse will remain dark until Sept. 27, when "Ready You Are, C. B." opens the fall season.

The theater group will completely redecorate and refurbish the playhouse, both inside and out, at a cost of more than $11,000.

Largest single items of cost will be the replacement of the antiquated control board and dangerous wiring.

Large areas of the theater will be carpeted to deaden unwanted sound, the chairs for theater-goers will be replaced, and the outside of the theater will be landscaped and damaged paving will be replaced in the parking areas and a new sidewalk installed to meet Carmel city specifications.

Naturally, the organization is looking for angels to help underwrite the improvements.

Naturally. Contributors will receive an authentic director's chair, suitably identified as his very own by his name on the back of it, and strategically placed in the front row of the refurbished theater.

His contribution will be memorialized by a plaque mounted in the theater and the appearance of his name as a bona fide sponsor of the printed programs of the performances.

And any contribution is, of course, tax deductible.

Anyone wishing to know how it feels to be a show biz angel can make a check payable to: Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula, Inc., PO Box A L, Carmel, California, 93921.

At any rate, the grand reopening of the Circle Theatre takes place Sept. 27 with the Carmel premier of "Ready When You Are, C. B."

More Helpful Hints From PG&E: Five handy tips on household safety.

A Little Dirt or Lint

can cause trouble. So make sure that burners and controls on your gas furnace, wall or floor heater are clean at all times. And clean or replace dirty furnace filters periodically.

Get Rid Of

rusted or loose fitting vent and flue pipes. Have them checked annually. And if you suspect a gas leak, CALL PG&E IMMEDIATELY.

Once A Year

have your gas appliances thoroughly checked by your furnace man or plumber. While he's there he should make sure safety pilots are operating properly, air openings on burners are clean and burners set for a blue flame.

Remember

to replace broken or frayed electric cords. Make sure all electric tools are properly grounded. Never put too many appliances on one outlet. And always discourage youngsters from tampering with cords or outlets.

It's Up To You

to practice good home safety habits. Don't place furniture or draperies over floor furnaces. Don't let gas accumulate before lighting a burner manually. And always make sure the burners on your range are off completely when not in use.

PG&E Is Ready To Help

If you call for a PG&E service man to check out any gas leak or inoperative gas appliance, ask him to show you where your gas pilots are located and how to go about relighting them. If repairs or parts are ever required for an appliance, call an appliance or furnace service man PG&E Pacific Gas and Electric Company or your plumber.

Paint Darkens

Painting woodwork inside the house? If matching the color to wallpaper or fabric, make the enamel a tone or two lighter. Paint, particularly enamel, tends to darken over a period of time, and a perfect match will look decidedly mis-matched within a few months.

There's a great two-week vacation waiting for you this fall.

Religious Awards For Local Scouts

San Carlos Cathedral, Monterey, will be the setting for the first formal presentation of the Catholic religious awards in scouting in the newly formed Diocese of Monterey in California.

On Sunday, Sept. 15th at 2 p.m., Bishop Harry A. Clinch, D.D. will confer the Ad Altare Dei religious award to Boy Scouts who have satisfactorily completed the requirements necessary for this award and the Parvuli Dei award to eligible Cub Scouts.

The formal awards ceremony will be preceded by a parade at 1:45 p.m. All interested Scout leaders, parents, families and friends are cordially invited to attend.

The Golden Book, a book which will permanently show the names of all Catholic boys in scouting who attain this high award through the years, will be presented to Bishop Clinch on behalf of the Diocesan Catholic Committee on Scouting. William T. Smith is the current chairman of this committee and Rv. W. H. Van Lun, Pacific Grove, is the Diocesan Chaplain.

Writing Class Begins Sept. 10

Mrs. Maxine Shore, author and editor, recently returned from southern California, where she conducted a ten day workshop in Writing the Novel. While there, she was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Van Note, in Rolling Hills.

At the conclusion of the course, she flew to Oregon to visit her son, Steven M. Shore, who is a graduate student there. In Portland, she was the guest of Mrs. George W. Harsh, and also vacationed at Cannon Beach and Salishan.

Earlier in the summer, Mrs. Shore conducted a writing workshop in Carmel, after which her students held a festive potluck dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Weller, who have just moved from Carmel to Carmel Valley.

Mrs. Shore's popular classes in Writing for Publication, sponsored by the Carmel Adult School, begin on Tuesday, September 10th, with the Basic Fiction course for beginning writers or for those who desire a refresher course in the technique of the short story. On Thursday evenings, there will be a workshop for both beginning and advanced students. The Advanced Class, for those who have had the basic courses, or are selling writers, begins on Monday, September 16th. All classes are held in the Carmel High School Library, from 7 to 10 p.m.

Students in Mrs. Shore's classes have published a total of ten books during the last six years, many of them "first" books, in addition to short stories, articles, plays and poems. Mrs. Shore, a former editor for Harper and Brothers, New York, is herself the author of seven books, including the award-winning Captive Princess, as well as numerous short stories, articles and plays. Two of the latter were selected for anthologies last year, and other selections from her writings have appeared in Childcraft as well as textbooks.

All Saints' Service

A dance interpretation of the parable of the Good Samaritan was presented at the family early service at 9:15 At All Saints' Episcopal Church, last Sunday.

Sandra and Suzanne Simard of Monterey were the dancers. "Father Art" Cunningham, director of Youth Activities, read the gospel. A poem by e. e. cummings which begins:

"a man who had fallen among thieves lay by the roadside on his back dressed in fifteenth rate ideas wearing a round jeer for a hat" provided food for thought.

The new liturgy was used and a colorful set of felt banners by Peggy Winslow of Carmel was displayed.

Registration was taken for youth activities which will begin Sept. 22. Adult leaders for the activities will be given training next week and they will be introduced next Sunday.

Choir rehearsals will be held on Thursdays at 4:15 or boys, on Fridays at 4 for girls, for adults on Thursdays at 7:30 p.m.

Kelly Goulding, Sabrina Rico, Elizabeth Sanford, Randolph Curtis, William Faulkner, Steven Thorngate and James Townsend were given awards for five year choir membership.

The Day School in Carmel Valley re-opened on Tuesday for kindergarten and grades 1-6.

Great Northwest

Mr. and Mrs. John Powells of Pescadero Road spent three weeks in Oregon and Washington last month. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bartlett of Pebble Beach also visited that area little earlier in the summer and included Alaska in their travels.

Christian Science Sunday Sermon

Congregations in Christian Science churches throughout the world will hear a lesson-sermon this Sunday titled "Substance."

Its Golden Text is from John: "Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you."

Among related passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by the denomination's Founder, Mary Baker Eddy, is the following: "Christianity causes men to turn naturally from matter to Spirit, as the flower turns from darkness to light. Man then appropriates those things which 'eye hath not seen nor ear heard.' Paul and John had a clear apprehension that, as mortal man achieves no worldly honors except by sacrifice, so he must gain heavenly riches by forsaking all worldliness. Then he will have nothing in common with the worlding's affections, motives, and aims."

Wyndham Lecture September 16 'Do We Think?'

When we relate thought more closely to God, we find answers to individual and world problems. This is the theme of a Christian Science lecture to be given in Carmel on Monday evening, Sept. 16. The lecturer will be John H. Wyndham, C.S.B., of Los Angeles.

Mr. Wyndham, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will speak in the church edifice, Monte Verde and 6th, at 8:00 p.m. The lecture is titled "Do We Think, or Just Think We Think?" The public is invited and there is no charge for admission.

A native of Holland, Mr. Wyndham received his education in Holland, Australia, and England. He has traveled extensively and has made documentary films in Australia, Greece, and Africa. He has served the United Nations as Director of Public Information for UNICEF's European activities, based in Paris.

Mr. Wyndham entered the public practice of the Christian Science healing ministry in 1958 and became a teacher of Christian Science in 1964. His lecture tour will take him to many parts of the world.

Do we think, or just think we think?

You'd be careful, wouldn't you, not to let thieves into your home?

But have you ever thought of being just as careful about what you let into your mental home — your consciousness? Your thoughts not only determine the kind of life you lead, but the kind of person you are.

John H. Wyndham, C.S.B., of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, has proven in his own prisoner-of-war experience how an understanding of God as divine Mind — as the true source of intelligent thought — can help one survive the most demoralizing pressures, even brainwashing.

Mr. Wyndham's remarkable experiences will be recounted in his talk entitled "Do We Think, or Just Think We Think?"

You and your friends are most cordially invited to attend this free public lecture. Christian Science lecture

Engaging Technique Variations At Carmel Museum of Art Show

"Roots of the Carmel Art Association" will be continuing for two months at the Carmel Museum of Art on Dolores Street. Seventy artists are represented.

contemporary members of C.A.A. is most interesting. "Cloister from Point Lobos", done by Elwood Graham in 1936 contrasts strikingly with the mature, highly individual work he produces today.

The influence of the Impressionists can be seen in the vibrating colors of "Artichoke Fields" by Roberta Balfour — (akin to Van Gogh), and the Monet-like work of Pedro Lemor. "Off for the Night Catch" by Armin Hansen is done with predominating blue and contrasts with the simplicity and sophistication he achieved in later years.

Myron Oliver painted "Mid-Day Gloucester, Maine" in strong contrasts of light and shadow. What a pity this fine artist gave up painting so early in his promising career.

There is a dream-like quality in "Boats in the Harbor" by Catherine Seidenbeck. George Seidenbeck is represented by a masterfully done "Portrait of Fisherman".

Curator Kent Seavy has returned from a strenuous but rewarding seminar in Wisconsin covering museum management, practices and techniques, full of enthusiasm and plans for exciting shows and programs in the future at the Carmel Museum of Art.

Beware of My Grandchildren

by Charles Strosnider

The reaction has set in! We have been watching carefully to see the results of the debacle in Chicago—the archaic gathering of the clan to select a leader.

The young people of America were heard—and heard loud and strong—through the voices of the delegates representing them. Perhaps for the first time the established political machine had been shaken to its core by the voices of many still too young to vote.

That is to the good.

This is your world, too, that you are about to enter, and you are by far more politically aware and more intelligent than your preceding generations were at your age.

But—the demonstrations, the conflicts with police and the resulting injuries and arrests were also seen and heard.

Throughout a shocked nation they were seen and heard.

They brought sympathetic response from millions who witnessed the over-zealousness of the Chicago police, and they made many think deeply on the cause and effect of such demonstrations. You young people hurt yourself there.

You put the capstone on the determination of the Middle Aged Establishment to react with the means at their disposal.

And as a result, this again played right into the hands of the militants who want to disrupt the fabric of government—to cause such a reaction to set in that government resorts to repressive measures. This gives advent to the over-kill methods of the police, the rise of the Wallaces and Maddoxes and the firming up of those practices you wish to change.

Most of us in the MAE want changes—changes for the better—but we want them by evolutionary methods, not revolutionary. The great problems facing our generation are the final equality and acceptance of our last major minority group, the Negro, the crisis within our cities, the fast, long strides of sociological growth to catch up with our scientific and technological advances and the return of the rights of the individual from super-government control with its attendant back-breaking tax burden. But that's for us to worry about.

But you, Young Establishment, have a real beaut of a problem to face—over-population.

Now let's conjure up a set of hypothetical circumstances to bring furrows to your unwrinkled brows.

First, because you are rapidly becoming the majority and are most vocal and demonstrative in your ways, you are able to destroy the essentials of good government, law and order, common decency and standards of social behavior built painfully throughout the centuries.

Your nihilistic and anarchistic programs have succeeded and the day of the uninhibited individualist holds sway.

Since you hold no truck with the MAE, as quickly as you hold the reins of power in your hands you start scheduling our retirement into Old Age Ghettos—a trend unfortunately started in my generation with our retirement homes and condominiums.

But whoa! Here come MY grandchildren!

While you have been busy gaining power and gradually phasing us out, you've been putting on years yourself. In fact, right now many of your most vocal representatives are just short of 30—that age beyond which they are "not to be trusted."

On the side you've been doing a little childbearing and as you enter the MAE my grandchildren are reaching your present age.

Now these grandchildren have been raised by YOUR standards—remember we're in Old Age Ghettos—and if we think you are loose in your standards of conduct and morals, wait till you see them!

There are only two ways for them to go: a complete about-face to a puritanical, stoical existence which will reject you per se or further on the path you have led them and really go—way, way out.

Either way you are done. Instead of confining you to Old Age Ghettos or exiling you to other lands—remember, OVERPOPULATION—what is the likelihood of their practicing a little euthanasia—not much, mind you, just one per person—on your generation?

Remember, they were raised by YOUR standards, and when you cease to be productive and become a drain on THEIR tax structure and are crowding THEIR youthful activities, over-population may take precedence over concern towards the individual.

Beware, my children, of my grandchildren!

In addition to local club activities for members, Inter-Club Dinner Dances or Campouts during the year are scheduled.

Further information concerning the '68 Convention

Forty-foot living-dining area. 15'x20' master bedroom, guest room, den, compact modern kitchen, and the most relaxing view patio we have ever seen. LARGE, INFORMAL RUSTIC-INTERIOR HOME on a secluded acre in Rancho Rio Vista with lovely oaks and a mountain outlook. Step-down living room with beamed ceiling and adobe wall fireplace, large step-down den with Swedish fireplace, family room-kitchen combination, three bedrooms, two baths, large detached workshop, lots of storage. Charming different. $62,500. Exclusive.

CARMEL POINT LOCATION for this appealing, not-large home. Due to its compact floor plan and no-care garden, this residence achieves a high degree of freedom from maintenance... almost carefree condominium living! Distinctive in exterior design and materials and pleasing in its interior decor, this nearly-new home offers a living room with rustic ceiling and fireplace wall, a separate dining room, two bedrooms (one with vaulted ceiling and ample louvered-door closets), an equipped kitchen with laundry closet and a delightful sheltered patio. Carpeting and draperies are included at $49,500.

ATTENTION, DO-IT-YOURSELFERS! Paint, linoleum and a cabinet or two will work wonders in this two-bedroom, sturdily-built modest home near Serra Avenue. A covered porch-entry leads into an attractive living room with brick hearth and newly-sanded floors; the bathroom is completely tiled; there is a separate dining room and the kitchen, which is spacious, lends itself to interesting renovation. Set among pines and redwoods, the property should increase in value after minimum improvement. Listed at $27,500.

ON A CLEAR DAY (and when it is overcast) the spacious grounds surrounding this Mediterranean-type home always reflect light and good cheer. The residence is ideal for a growing family with its two-level floor plan that provides two bedrooms and bath on one floor and another bedroom and bath on the first level plus the impressive living room with its vaulted ceiling, tall windows and large fireplace. There is a separate dining room, a peasant-type kitchen with modern units, a special laundry area and storage for two cars. A Separate Garden Studio is a "bonus" item in its setting of bearing fruit trees. A good value at $49,500.

Council Favors Joint Library

While the plan would make it freely possible for any library card-holder in the county to borrow any available book from any library in the county, and eventually return that book either to the same library or to any other library, it could also create new burdens and lead eventually to added costs for any participating city library such as Carmel's.

The plan also required that local library budgets not be reduced simply because state funds are made available to the joint county-wide library effort. In Carmel's case, the program would lead to immediate loss of the $7,000-per-year-fee which the Carmel library has been charging for issuance of library cards to adults living outside Carmel's city limits. This loss to Carmel, was estimated last night at about $1,600 per year. Since the present annual library budget could not be reduced by a like amount to make up for this lost revenue, local tax cost for library purposes could therefore increase.

If all the existing city libraries in the county—Salinas, Monterey, Pacific Grove, Carmel, and King City, along with the County of Monterey—were to join in creating the MBAC Library System, it was thought that initial state funding of the plan would provide the sum of $55,000. It was also thought that a vehicle would have to be purchased, and a driver employed, to move books, periodicals, and other library materials, among the participating local libraries, since all the circulating materials could be checked out of any library and returned to any other.

Before beginning the prolonged discussion as to whether or not to participate in the county-wide joint powers library plan, the City Council approved the decision of the Carmel Library Board to shift its book processing arrangements from the County of Monterey to the California State Library Processing Center. The cost per book for this processing service, would be $1.40 instead of the amount of $2.06 charged by the county. The service involves "ordering, cataloging, and processing" books bought for use in Carmel's Harrison Memorial Library.

At the conclusion of last night's meeting, the City Council adjourned until next Wednesday evening when it is scheduled to consider the acquisition of a new site for the disposal of land-fill materials.

bus; many have no phones; many do not have transportation facilities to meet all busses.

They outlined reasons for wanting to save the school: that it is a neighborhood school; the living expression of the values of this rural community of independent and educated people; that the school is personal, and intimate; the children suffer no loss of identity there; the school can eliminate the competitive factor so destructive to individual aspiration.

On Tuesday, the 20 youngsters and their parents arrived, but no teacher was there to greet them. As Taylor had explained, he had no authority to reopen the school which had been closed by the board.

However, all was not lost. Parents conducted a outdoor class in watercolor that day, and since then they have been carrying on an instructional program with the help of three experienced teachers, Jean Keith, a primary teacher, Maurice Mandelman, a secondary teacher, and Ellen Wilde, a college teacher, to keep the children occupied until the difficulty has been worked out by the school board.

Dr. Newton

Los Angeles Schools, was employed to teach math and social studies at Middle School; Miss Catherine Wardhaugh, from Novato, California, to teach English and Reading there.

Dr. Taylor suggested that water polo be added to the high school athletic program and that a girls' swim team be formed. He further suggested that there might be four swim meets in the spring, against Santa Catalina, Junipero, the Monterey High Schools and Pacific Grove.

In separate motions, the board approved and implemented both suggestions.
